

Sprint 3 Report

Crossover, Team: Crossover, Date 3/4/16

Actions to stop doing:

- Stop underestimating user stories on how long they will take. The tasks we underestimate end up take a lot more than we planned and impedes with our planned progress.

Actions to start doing:

- Breaking user stories into smaller tasks. Some tasks that we create end up being bigger than we thought. Going through the tasks after we created them and trying to break them down even further might help

Actions to keep doing:

- Regularly updating and merging code. This helps to make sure that everyone keeps their code up to date.
